PROVENANCE:

The bulk of the material was collected by Doris Whithorn over several decades as part of her research on individuals and families who resided in Park County. ## HISTORICAL NOTE

In 1964, the Park County Museum Association was formed. Doris Whithorn served as the Museum Director and both she and husband, Bill became quite involved with the development of the Museum. At this time Doris Whithorn began collecting the papers of individuals and families throughout Park County, and surrounding areas in Montana. In the early 1980s Doris Whithorn began soliciting donations for the publication The History of Park County 1984, a 512 page book, authored by Doris and 45 volunteers. In the Doris Whithorn Curator Collection the original draft and letters from Park County residents are included. It's important to note that the collection contains a lot of material that was not published. The book was a major accomplishment.

The material in the Park County Family Collection compliments and enhances Doris Whithorn Curator Collection. After she published the book, she continued to receive letters and family histories from residents in Park County, former residents and also distant relatives who lived in other parts of the country.

During Doris Whithorn's tenure as Museum Director until 1997 the letters and family histories were stored in file cabinets in alphabetical order. Since Doris retired, the staff at the Yellowstone Gateway Museum of Park County continues to collect and receive letters, clippings, family histories and biographies, and adds the material to the family history collection

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The collection comprises of material Doris Whithorn collected from Park County residents or relatives located out-of-town throughout the years. The material was discovered in her files at the Yellowstone Gateway Museum of Park County. Doris Whithorn organized the family history material in alphabetical order according to the surname. These files comprised a portion of the collection that Doris Whithorn stored with her papers as Director along with a large collection of newspaper clippings. The historical material dates from the 1860s to 2003. In addition to the material Doris collected, numerous individuals donated family histories to the museum. Yellowstone Gateway Museum of Park County continues to receive and collect family histories, genealogies and pertinent material that document the lives of individuals and families residing in Park County, Montana.

Recent donations of family histories by Nancy Adkins, Sandy Denesen and Bev and Gary George have been added to the finding aid. These donations of family history notebooks provide in-depth research on Park County families. In addition Nancy Adkins conducted research on numerous ethnicities and local business, such as the Murray Hotel. These notebooks are located in the research library.
